RACHEL

WILLIAM LAW CE PRIMARY

SPECIALIST LEADER of EDUCATION in MUSIC

Rachel is an experienced teacher of all primary ages, with recognised expertise and a passion for music education. She has secure subject knowledge which she shares openly with colleagues to raise the profile of quality music experiences and music education for all.

Rachel delivers CPD and staff meetings and regularly works successfully with trainees, generalists and specialist teachers. She is supportive, approachable and passionate in her view that music should be regarded as a statutory primary subject in its own right: she also recognises that music can work successfully in partnership with other subject areas to support topic-based learning. children, having high expectations in her own current practice as a full time classroom music teacher.

Rachel promotes music as being a powerful experience that enhances the culture and ethos of the whole school and is central to a child's development and engagement with their own learning journey. When collaborating with schools Rachel demonstrates and offers advice about classroom music, 'First Access', assessment, repertoire, peripatetic support and planning with skills progression, which is tailored to each school: she can also suggest ways to initiate or improve music clubs, such as choirs. Expert support in strengthening individual schools' music delivery will impact on the whole curriculum as well as providing pupils with robust, aesthetic and performance experiences.
